- With increasing medical and public interest in the potential benefits of cannabinoids, healthcare professionals are facing more and more questions from colleagues and patients.
- This engaging symposium aims to tackle three BIG questions on cannabinoids and cannabis-based products, through reviewing the existing evidence, discussing the science, and advising on how to communicate this information to patients and colleagues.

What are CBD oils?

Are cannabinoids
'safe'?

How exactly does THC get people 'high'?
