Welcome Message

Dear colleagues and friends,

On behalf of the EAN Teaching Course sub-Committee we have the great pleasure and privilege to welcome you at our jubilee Spring School in Frankenfels, Austria.

Having a very long standing tradition, first in the former EFNS and now within the EAN, we are proud to announce that this year we are celebrating the 20th Spring School.

During the very successful previous years, Spring School hosted almost 2000 participants from more than 40 countries. The majority of important, relevant, interesting and very attractive neurological topics were covered by more than 200 top experts during more than 120 scientific sessions and workshops.

For many years, Professor Pavel Kalvach was the good spirit of the Spring School and he was successfully succeeded, first by Professor Gilles Edan, and in the last years by Professor Milija Mijajlovic.

We certainly owe perfect organisation of the Spring School for all the past years to Ing. Magda Dohnalova, EAN Headoffice staff, as well as members of EFNS/EAN Boards and Committees as well as Residents and Research Fellows Section.

As in the past years, we have selected very attractive lectures on Stroke, Higher Cortical Functions and Neurorehabilitation. They are going to be presented by the distinguished international faculty to 120 neurologist in training from 38 countries.

This year for the first time, Spring School participants will have the possibility to present their selected cases during the scientific dinner in front of a Jury and all participants. We are sure that participants will have the possibility not only to gain new knowledge in neuroscience but to make new friendships, plan further collaborations and also enjoy the beautiful surroundings and nature in Lower Austria.

We wish you successful and fruitful work and a very pleasant stay!

About EAN

The European Academy of Neurology (EAN) was founded during the first Joint Meeting of the ENS (European Neurological Society) and EFNS (European Federation of Neurological Societies) in Istanbul. This year EAN celebrates its 5th anniversary and the 20th EAN Spring School.

EAN Mission

EAN provides a go-to resource for everyone working in the fields of neurology and neuroscience. The EAN brings together national societies, institutions, clinicians and researchers and offers a forum for research, learning, networking and best practice for patients.

Its mission is to increase and share neurological excellence in Europe and worldwide and to promote quality and work with the best clinicians, educators and scientists.

Assembly of Delegates

It is the democratic heart of EAN, consisting of Individual Delegates representing individual members, and Institutional Delegates representing the 47 member Societies of EAN.

Organisation

4 Committees and 2 sub-committees covering all aspects of our scientific organisation. The committees cover the following areas: congress programme, education, communication, scientific, European affairs and educational events outside the congress.

30 scientific panels represent all areas of neurology. Each panel consists of one member of each European National Neurological Society and individual panel members. They are organised by their own management group. RRFS do have representatives in most of the committees and panels.

Resident and Research Fellow Section (RRFS)

The main objectives are: to represent, inform, and help neurology trainees at an international level, including those who wish to spend time in other countries for clinical training or research; to connect junior neurologists for clinical exchange and support; to build a platform for communication among junior neurologists.

RRFS organise a hospital visit and a special session as well as many networking opportunities during the annual EAN Congress.

RRFS members are eligible

- To apply for the EAN Spring and Autumn School
- To apply for the EAN Clinical and Research Fellowship
- To apply for a congress travel grant (bursary)
- To participate in the Tournament for neurologists in training at the annual congress
- To pay the reduced congress registration fee
- To visit the VIP members' lounge at the congress

About the area

“The Dörf” - Located on a mountainside between Frankenfels and Schwarzenbach, the old mountain farm, the “Waitzgraben”, was refurbished to an ample hotel village, retaining from nature and from the local character as much as possible. This nature park at 730m above sea level is crossed by a myriad of walking paths and surrounded by generous 86 hectares of healthy forests and lush mountain meadows.

The revitalised houses of the former country yard are grouped harmoniously around the central “Village Square”. And this ensemble is complemented on the level of the terraces by the “Jagdhaus” (Hunting Cabin), the House “Talblick” (Valley View), and – towering above all – by the “Dorfhotel” (Village Hotel). Next to the “Dorfplatz” (the Village Square) you will find the terrace, a meeting point at any time of the day, with an indeed lovely view to the east.

“The Ötscher” – visible from 100km distance, the 1,893m (6,211 ft) high mountain is a prominent peak in south-western Lower Austria. Its name has Slavic roots and translates approximately as a diminutive of “father”. The Ötscher area belongs to the Ybbstal Alps, which are part of the Northern Limestone Alps.

Melk Abby / Stift Melk

Melk has been a spiritual and cultural center of the country for more than 1000 years, first as a castle for the Babenbergs, then from 1089 as a Benedictine monastery, founded by Margrave Leopold II.

Since the 12th century a school has been connected with the monastery, and valuable manuscripts have been collected and created in the library. In the course of the monastery's history, members of the Melk monastic community have achieved significant success in the fields of natural science and the arts. In the 15th century, the monastery was the starting point of one of the most important medieval monastic reforms, the "Melk Reform", and had close ties to the Humanists at the University of Vienna.

The magnificent baroque building was built between 1702 and 1736 following plans by Jakob Prandtauer and some of the most renowned artists of the time.

For over 900 years, monks have continued in the tradition of St. Benedict without interruption in the fields of parish life (23 parishes belong to the monastery), school, economy, culture, and tourism.

Since its beginnings, Melk has been an important intellectual and spiritual center of the country.

The numerous visitors to the building pose a pastoral challenge to the monastery, a desire to make them realize that in every period and genre of art, the artists wanted to call attention to God through their works ("Ut In Omnibus Glorificetur Deus"—So that God is honored in all we do).

IN OUR PROFESSION, PERCEPTION IS KEY.

LET'S TRAIN IT.

Educational Activities

In addition to Fellowship grants and the Spring and Autumn Schools, EAN is happy to offer other educational activities for professional neurologists and neurologists in training:

Regional Teaching Courses (RTC)

EAN-RTCs aim at bringing teaching of excellence to residents in neurology and neighboring specialties to the countries that cannot hold an EAN congress. One RTC per year takes place in Sub-Saharan Africa (co-organised with AFAN and other organisations). The purpose is to provide basic teaching in neurology and thus also establish friendly relations with all colleagues. These courses are scheduled for 3 days, with plenary sessions each morning followed by small tutorial groups in the afternoon (case-based videoclips, hands-on workshops).

EAN-Day

The EAN-Day aims at bringing excellent teaching and special recognition by the EAN to our National Neurological Member Societies (and Corresponding Societies). This day takes place directly prior or after a National Neurological Society meeting and is a strictly academic educational initiative with financial support from the EAN. Three plenary sessions will take place in the morning addressing 3 different topics, followed by rotating workshops on the same 3 topics, case-based video clips or hands-on courses for participants to work and learn in smaller groups.

CME ARTICLES

Each month a CME article is published in the European Journal of Neurology and on the EAN website. Answer 5 article-related questions correctly and receive a certificate recommending one hour of CME. Please visit the EAN website, LEARN section, for free-of-charge access.

eBrain

This e-Learning programme consists of approximately 20 modules of e-learning, with each of the 550+ individual lessons taking around 20 minutes to complete and is free of charge for EAN members via the EAN website.

This programme is designed to support training and continuous professional development for clinical neuroscience trainees, consultants and non-specialists.

eBook: Manual of the Neurological Examination for Neurologists in Training

This multimedia publication is primarily aimed at students in clinical training and at junior doctors and can be downloaded free of charge for EAN members via the EAN website. In 12 sections, containing 90 videos tutorials and >100 images basics and finer points of the clinical bedside examination in neurology are presented by renown experts in their field.
